What's Happening Week 1?

Hire UCLA
Hey, Bruins! Are you interested in finding a job? Or are you hoping to spice up your resume with an internship or two? Connect with employers across a range of industries - from business to education, tech to research, at the Hire UCLA Career Fair. Taking place virtually on January 12, 2022, students will get the opportunity to talk directly with representatives from different companies about open positions and opportunities. Student registration for Hire UCLA opens on January 5, 2022. For more information on the event and to see the list of employers that will be attending, log in to your Handshake account. So, what are you waiting for? Prepare your resume and elevator speech, your career starts here.

195CE Internship Course
Are you interested in earning academic credit for an internship in Winter 2022? Consider enrolling in a 195CE internship course! In the course you'll receive 1:1 mentorship from a graduate student instructor, complete weekly readings, write reflections, and produce a final paper that asks and applied research question connecting academic material with your internship experience. Visit the Center for Community Engagement website for eligibility details and instructions, and enroll in a 195CE course by Wednesday, January 12th, 2022. For more information, email 195CEinfo@college.ucla.edu.

Capital Fellows
Are you a senior and interested in public policy? Apply to become a Capital Fellow! The Capital Programs are nationally recognized public policy fellowships which offer unique experiences in policy-making and development in each branch of government. Capital Fellows are placed at some of the highest levels of California state government and assist state legislators, senior-level executive staff, and court administrators with a broad range of public policy issues and projects and are typically given assignments with a significant amount of responsibility and challenges. Rooted in experiential learning and public service, Capital Fellows spend 10-11 months as part of a cohort working in a Legislative, Executive or Judicial Branch office. For more information and to access the application, please visit their website.

CONDUITS
Are you looking for hidden campus gems to enhance your time at UCLA? Look no further! Every week Conduits will feature a campus resource, selected by our very own CAC Peer Counselors and Student Staff, that will help you maximize your academic and social experience at UCLA.

UCLA Writing Programs' Undergraduate Writing Center provides free virtual and in-person support for all students on written material including course papers, capstone projects, senior thesis papers and application materials. In addition to helping with specific assignments, the Center seeks to help students become more effective and confident writers. Serving as attentive and experienced readers, peer learning facilitators work collaboratively with students at every step of the writing process and tailor sessions to the writers' needs and concerns. Schedule a Zoom appointment or attend virtual drop-in sessions here. Explore their in-person locations and hours here. Students can also get feedback over email, and instructions are available here.
