

The Connection

Winter 2023 | Week 5

For Undergraduates in the UCLA College of Letters and Science

What's Happening Week 5?

Create or Curate in Arts & Information

When people think of careers in collections or curation, they likely think of individuals responsible for displaying works of art to the public in a museum or gallery setting. However, there are many other opportunities in the fields of art and information studies to explore! Hear from alumni who are pursuing careers related to collections and curation, whether in arts, libraries, behind-the-scenes, or elsewhere! Join us for our Humanities Career Panel Series event, Create or Curate: Inside Careers in Arts & Information on Tuesday, February 7 from 4-5 PM on Zoom. Register Here:

How to Get Involved in Research Workshop

Interested in getting involved in research and not sure where to start? CAC peer counselors will be hosting this insightful workshop to give helpful advice on how to pursue and receive research experiences across diverse disciplines, whether it be in the STEM or humanities fields. We will be going over the different types of research, how to find and apply to research opportunities, and various resources/programs to help support you on your journey. It will be hosted on Zoom on Wednesday, February 15th, 5:30-7 PM. Please sign up here: <https://tinyurl.com/cacresearchworkshop23>. Be sure to sign up ASAP and invite your friends before spots get filled up!

Undergraduate Writing Center PLF Hiring

The Undergraduate Writing Center is currently hiring Peer Learning Facilitators (PLFs) for the summer and next academic year! PLFs help other students with academic writing on one-on-one sessions, make classroom visits, represent the Writing Center, and conduct workshops. This is a very rewarding opportunity! In order to apply, you must have satisfied the Writing I requirement and a strong GPA (preferably at least a 3.5). You can find the application here! The application is due Friday, March 17th, at 5 PM. In case you have any questions, feel free to contact Christine Holten at holten@humnet.ucla.edu.
