What's Happening Week 3?

International Development Studies Major Declaration Change for 2023-24
Are you interested in declaring a major in International Development Studies (IDS)? Effective Fall 2023, there is no longer an application required to declare this major for the academic year of 2023-2024! As long as you are a freshmen, sophomore, or junior standing and meet all the requirements, including being in good academic standing, completed their preparation courses with a 2.0 GPA, and completed foreign language level 3 (see website for details), you may declare the major any quarter this academic year. For more information regarding requirements and the declaration form, visit their website or contact the advisors for additional assistance!

Underrepresented Graduate Students in Psychology (UGSP) Office Hours
If you are interested in pursuing or learning more about graduate school for Psychology, speak with a graduate student from Underrepresented Graduate Students in Psychology (UGSP)! They are hosting virtual office hours this quarter from Weeks 2-9 to answer any questions about graduate school applications, CVs/resumes, research interests and any other professional development aspects. Students are also welcome to use this opportunity to chat with graduate students about any matters they have insights for (e.g. how to find research opportunities, what to do after graduation, how to start a research project). Find the schedule of available graduate students and their Zoom links here: https://shorturl.at/rxzCE.

UCLA Alumni Mentor Program
The UCLA Alumni Mentor Program gives you exclusive access to a network of alumni who are eager and willing to meet and share their wisdom and advice about life beyond UCLA. Alumni Mentors can help you make the most of your UCLA experience, create a résumé, apply to top internships and jobs, identify career pathways, prepare for interviews, and much more. With over 1,500 volunteer mentors from different backgrounds, there is a mentor out there for everyone! To join and learn more about the Alumni Mentor Program, visit the UCLA Alumni website. The deadline to participate is October 25, 2023.

UPCOMING DATES AND DEADLINES

Friday, October 20th (Week 3)
- Last day to add classes through MyUCLA without a fee
- Financial aid census date; enrolled units verified to determine eligibility for term
- Reduced units audit of approved undergraduate units (10 or fewer) for reduced fee eligibility

Friday, October 27th (Week 4)
- Last day to drop non impacted classes without transcript notation via MyUCLA

STAY CONNECTED!
Contact College Academic Counseling via
- MyUCLA Message Center
- REACH Virtual Drop-in Counseling
- Window at A-316 Murphy Hall
- CAC Peer Counselor In-Person Stations
Visit our CAAC Contact page for our REACH and Window hours, and CAC Peer Counselor page for In-Person Station location and hours

CONDUITS
Are you looking for hidden campus gems to enhance your time at UCLA? Look no further! Every week Conduits will feature a campus resource, selected by our very own CAC Peer Counselors, that will help you maximize your academic and social experience at UCLA.

Good Clothes Good People
Working at the intersection of sustainability and accessibility, Good Clothes Good People (GCGP) is a campus non-profit focused on providing UCLA students with basic hygiene products, clothing, and school supplies! Located in the Student Activities Center, Room B54, UCLA undergraduate students can visit the GCGP center to pick up any basic necessities they are in need of, free of charge. Their clothing closet is open for students to take shirts, pants, and shoes, and they also offer formal wear, wheelchair, crutches, and umbrella rentals. Visitors are welcome to stop by anytime Monday through Friday from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. To learn more about their services or ways to get involved, visit their website.