What's Happening Week 4?

URC-HASS Race & Popular Culture (RAP) Lab
Interested in conducting research about race and pop culture? Apply to the URC-HASS RAP Lab Fellowship! Modeled on a natural sciences laboratory, the Race & Popular Culture (RAP) Lab is project-driven, bringing cutting-edge arts and humanities research to communities that historically have not benefited from it. RAP Lab Fellows receive a $3,000 scholarship while conducting project-driven collaborative research for 10 hours per week in Winter and Spring quarters. RAP Lab Fellows work on one of the RAP Lab's ongoing projects and/or can propose a new project for the Lab to consider under the guidance of Dr. Adam Bradley. Applications are currently open and due by 11:59 pm on November 1st.

College Academic Mentor (CAM) Pre-Med Drop-In
Are you interested in pursuing a pathway in medicine, seeking advice from medical students, and not sure where to start? Some of our College Academic Mentors (CAMs) in College Academic Counseling are current UCLA medical students and will be hosting a monthly Q&A drop-in for interested students! Register using this link and join the zoom session for this month's drop-in on Thursday, October 26th, 12:00-12:45pm. This is a great opportunity to connect with knowledgeable students in the prospective journey you're about to enter, as well as to ask for general advice or clarify any questions!

Carter Higgins CDSJ Research Program
Are you interested in getting involved in research in urban planning, social social welfare, public policy, or public health? If so, Carter Higgins Community Development and Social Justice Research Program (CDSJ) may be the perfect opportunity for you! CDSJ provides AAP undergraduate students with a service-learning opportunity that integrates research and practice in preparation for graduate study in social welfare, public policy, urban planning, labor/workplace studies, and public health. Informational sessions will be held in person on 10/26, 11/2, and 11/9 in 1224 Campbell Hall from 5-6pm, as well as virtually on 10/23, 10/30, and 11/6 from 12-1pm. For questions, please contact aandino@college.ucla.edu.

CONDUITS
Are you looking for hidden campus gems to enhance your time at UCLA? Look no further! Every week Conduits will feature a campus resource, selected by our very own CAC Peer Counselors, that will help you maximize your academic and social experience at UCLA.

Center for Scholarships & Scholar Enrichment
If you're looking to explore scholarship opportunities at UCLA and beyond, be sure to visit the UCLA Center for Scholarships and Scholar Enrichment! In addition to providing resources such as writing help, workshops, and search tools, the Center also manages extensive scholarship programs beyond the UCLA campus. The Center serves as the central liaison for students applying to nationally competitive scholarships, such as the Fashion Scholarship Fund, the Rhodes Scholarship, the Goldwater, and Schwarzman Scholars among others. The Center for Scholarships and Scholar Enrichment is also responsible for managing the local chapter for Phi Beta Kappa, the nation's oldest honors society. If you are interested in learning more or utilizing the Center's workshops, individual counseling, and other programming resources, check out their website!
