UC LEADS
Are you a physical science or engineering major interested in conducting research? Consider applying to the UC Leadership Excellence Through Advanced Degrees (UC LEADS) program, one of the most prestigious fellowships awarded by the University of California System. The UC LEADS program awards upper undergraduate students with educational experiences and resources for conducting research over two years. As a UC LEADS research fellow, you will have the opportunity to spend two summers participating in research programs (one at UCLA and another at UC campus). Applications are currently open and can be found on MyUCLA as a survey under the Campus Life tab! Applications close March 8, 2024. For additional information, please visit the URC-Sciences website.

Quarter in Washington
Interested in spending a quarter interning in the heart of the nation's capital? UCLA Quarter in Washington provides you an opportunity to intern in Washington, DC while remaining a full-time UCLA student. This is an incredible opportunity to get hands-on experience, and make lifelong career connections on a national level by diving deep into topics that matter and networking with leaders in your field. You can earn up to 16 upper division UCLA units, and you are required to take three courses (12 units total). All majors are welcome to apply! A minimum 3.0 GPA and at least a junior or senior standing are required for eligibility. The Fall 24 Quarter application deadline is April 17th, 2024. Register via Zoom to attend any of the six information sessions (2pm on Feb 9th, Feb 16th, Feb 23rd, March 1st, March 8th, and March 15th) for the Fall 24 application cycle. For more information and instructions to apply, visit their website.
