What's Happening Week 2?

Labor Summer Research Program
Are you interested in research and supporting workers and learners in Los Angeles County? The UCLA Labor Summer Research Program (LSRP) 2024 invites you to apply to their in-person program on campus this summer. Students will engage in applied research focused on the social, economic, and political context of workers and learners or students who attend college in Los Angeles County and also work at the same time. Students will assess the intersections and experiences of workers and learners and how they navigate barriers and opportunities in fulfilling their academic, career, and life goals. Students will receive training on the development, analysis, and dissemination of surveys and interviews. LSRP will take place during Summer Session B and Summer Session C, and the program is open to all majors! Participating in the program also fulfills the Labor Studies Major Capstone requirement. Interested students must submit their application here by April 30, 2024; students are accepted on a rolling basis.

Undergraduate Research & Creativity Showcase
UCLA undergraduates are invited to present their research and creative projects at the Undergraduate Research & Creativity Showcase on May 21st during Undergraduate Research Week 2024 (May 20th -24th)! Students may present a 5-10 minute live-streamed or prerecorded presentation or submit a creative exhibit or multimedia project as part of UCLA's largest undergraduate conference. Applications to participate in the Showcase are due by April 15th. Students may also apply for a Dean's Prize and nominate their faculty mentor for an award by April 18th.

Los Angeles Global Health Conference
You are invited to the 2024 Los Angeles Global Health Conference – one of Southern California's most significant annual health events! This year, the focus of the event is on “Global Health in a Changing World.” The conference will include Ultrasound and Narrative Medicine Workshops, student contributions, and networking opportunities to connect with professionals and students in the global health arena. The event will be hosted on April 20th, 9 AM-3 PM, at UCLA Covel Commons 200 De Neve, Room 305. Register for tickets here, and you can apply for a scholarship by April 13th if you are seeking financial support to attend. For more information, visit the Los Angeles Global Health Conference website.

UPCOMING DATES AND DEADLINES

Friday, April 12th (Week 2)
- Study List becomes official at 11:59 PM
- Classes dropped for non-payment, and waitlists dropped at 11:59 PM
- Last day to drop impacted classes
- Last day to enroll without late study list fee through MyUCLA
- Last day to submit reduced fees request to College or School

STAY CONNECTED!

Contact College Academic Counseling via
- MyUCLA Message Center
- REACH Virtual Drop-in Counseling
- Window at A-316 Murphy Hall
- CAC Peer Counselor In-Person Stations

Visit our CAAC Contact page for our REACH and Window hours, and CAC Peer Counselor page for In-Person Station location and hours

CONDUITS

Are you looking for hidden campus gems to enhance your time at UCLA? Look no further! Every week Conduits will feature a campus resource, selected by our very own CAC Peer Counselors, that will help you maximize your academic and social experience at UCLA.

The RISE Center
The RISE Center at UCLA is an extension of UCLA Counseling and Psychological Services (CAPS) – who serves to uplift and support every Bruin’s well-being by providing education, resources, and tools needed to foster health, healing, and hope. All services are free of cost and include an array of workshops, training, drop-in consultations, and self-directed resources. Workshops and training can cover an array of topics such as breaking down self care, imposter feelings, mindfulness, and more. For more information on upcoming events or services offered visit the website: https://risecenter.ucla.edu/.