Spring 2024 | Week 8

For Undergraduates in the UCLA College of Letters and Science

What's Happening Week 8?

Pre-Public Health Major Info Sessions

Interested in pursuing Public Health? Attend the Fielding School of Public Health Undergraduate Student Services information sessions to learn more about the Public Health majors and how to request to declare the pre-majors. You will get to meet and ask questions to the Office of Undergraduate Student Services, current Public Health major students, and College Academic Mentors. One of the information sessions will take place on Monday, May 20th 12-1 PM on Zoom, and the other on Wednesday, May 22nd 12-1 PM on Zoom as well. Registration is not required, and you may just join via the Zoom links. If you have questions and are unable to attend the info session, please contact them via MyUCLA Message Center.

International Migration Studies Minor Application

The undergraduate minor in International Migration Studies will soon be accepting applicants for its 2024-25 cohort. Drawing on a broad array of disciplines and methodologies, this minor explores the complex phenomenon of international migration, offering students a profound understanding of its social and intellectual dimensions. Designed for those pursuing advanced international migration studies, the minor includes a 30-page research thesis, enabling students to explore and research topics aligned with their interests. Interested students must apply to the minor by the Spring Quarter of their Junior Year. Applications for the 2024-25 cohort will be accepted from June 1 to June 30, 2024. Please visit their website to review program requirements, be added to the mailing list, and get access to the application. Contact advising@international.ucla.edu (be sure to include your UCLA ID#) if you have further questions.

Sustainable LA Undergraduate Research Scholars Program (URSP)

Do you have a passion for research and sustainability? Consider applying to the Sustainable LA Grand Challenge Undergraduate Research Scholars Program \(URSP\)! This year-long research program offers a unique blend of research, education, and hands-on experience. Participants will receive mentorship from esteemed faculty and senior researchers while engaging in weekly courses designed to enhance their sustainability knowledge, research, and communication skills! This program is open to students who will be in their 2nd and 3rd years in 2024-25, with leadership opportunities available for 4th years and up. Applications are open now and close June 21, 2024. For further questions, please contact rshipe@g.ucla.edu!

Undocumented Student Program

At UCLA, the Undocumented Student Program (USP) office provides programming and resources to undocumented students and students of mixed-status families. USP provides immigration legal services to students and their family members through a partnership with the UC Immigrant Legal Services Center (UCLImm). The UCLImm serves the immigration-related legal needs of undocumented and immigrant students and their immediate family members, as well as mixed-status families. UCLImm is committed to advancing equity and success in higher education through provision of FREE, high-quality immigration legal representation, outreach, and education. To learn more about USP and how to use their legal services, please visit usp.ucla.edu
